Palestinians are subjected to forcible population transfer by Israeli material breaches of international law: to name only a few policies, implantation of colonies/settlement and settlers, demolition of homes, land confiscation and annexation, collective punishment including the imposition of a blockade on the Gaza strip, arbitrarily detention of Palestinians including children.

This panel, organized by BADIL, brings together Palestinian human rights organizations and it aims to discuss the Israeli human rights' violations and breaches of international law, and ways to tackle them via the UN Human Rights Council.
